8) Domestic Violence Faced By Women In Our Society

Respected teacher and my dear friend,

Today I am speak about the topic is domestic violence faced by women in our Society. Violence against women in ~~our~~ ^{Society} is very social issue.

which has taken its root deeply to the societal norm and economic dependence. This issue of violence against women come forth time in the form of brutal gang-rape, Sexual harassment at work place, acid attacks etc. A big incident of violence against women was happened in Delhi on 16th December in 2012. It was a bridal gang-rape of the 23 year old woman in India. A huge crowd of anger people come out to the street by having a call for change.

Even after happening such types of cases regularly in the society, it is not going to change the societal norms against women. It is going very complex and deeply rooted in the Indian society even after increasing educational level of the people violence against women happens because of inefficient legal justice system, weak rules of law and male dominated social and political structures.

According to the research it is found that violence against women begins at home in the early age especially in the rural areas by the family members, relatives, neighbours and friends.

(14) Situation of the women varies all over the country according to the place, culture and tradition of people. Women in the north eastern provinces and South have better position than other regions. Because of the practice of female infanticide the number of girl child has been very less in comparison to the male child (almost 940 women to 1000 men according to the 2011 census). Such a huge decrease in the percentage of female child is because of the sex-selective abortions and negligence of young girls during infancy.

According to the National Crime Records Bureau, women in India are very much unsafe in their marital home.

Other common violence against women in the society are domestic violence, acid attacks, rape, honor killings, dowry deaths, abduction and brutal behaviour by husbands and in laws.

Women in society have been victims of violence from many years in almost all the societies, regions, cultures and religious communities. Women in the Indian society have to bear variety of violence such as domestic, public, physical, social as emotional and mental. Violence against women is clearly seen in the history to a large extent which is still getting practiced without any positive change. My words are concluded, Thank you.

Music in film

The importance of music in movies is highly regarded for manipulating the viewer's emotions and helping them immerse into the story. Music is one of the prime elements in cinema. Without it a movie would feel dull and unexciting. There are three elements in a movie: one is acting, the second is picture, and the third one is music. It is a holy trinity; if incomplete, there would be a lack of sensation and excitement.

Both acting and picture can stand independently from one another, but music is the one that makes the movie memorable. There are thousands of movie composers in the music industry, a few who triumph and whose work is well known to almost half of the world.
