TEACHERS FEEDBACK ANALYSIS REPORT 2023-2024

INTRODUCTION

As part of our ongoing efforts to improve the quality of education at Sree Narayana College, we conduct an annual teacher feedback survey to gather insights on various aspects of our curriculum and teaching practices. This report presents the analysis of the feedback received from 22 teachers who participated in the survey for the academic year 2023-24.

METHODOLOGY

The methodology employed for this feedback analysis report involved a systematic and structured approach to collecting, analyzing, and acting upon the feedback received from our teachers. The process began with the distributing of a feedback questionnaire to teachers, who provided their invaluable insights and perspectives on various aspects of our curriculum and teaching practices. The feedback was then collected and compiled, ensuring that all responses were accurately recorded and kept confidential to maintain the teachers' anonymity. Subsequently, the collected feedback underwent a systematic analysis, wherein the responses were thoroughly examined, categorized, and coded to identify emerging trends, patterns, and themes. This analysis enabled us to notice areas of strength and weakness, as well as identify opportunities for improvement and growth. Finally, based on the findings and insights gleaned from the analysis, we have taken proactive steps to act upon the feedback, implementing changes and modifications aimed at enhancing our system, teaching practices, and overall educational experience.

The following questions were included in the teachers feedback questionnaire;

2. Green Audit

The concept of an "eco campus" has gained traction globally as educational institutions seek to minimize their environmental impact due to high resource consumption and waste generation. The importance of green initiatives within campuses is growing, and waste minimization plans have become mandatory to maintain campus cleanliness and sustainability.

One such initiative is the green auditing of Sree Narayana College, Chathannur, which aims to assess various environmental aspects of the campus. The green audit seeks to evaluate:

1. Flora and Fauna: Understanding the biodiversity on the campus and its ecological health.
2. Energy Consumption: Examining the usage of electricity and fossil fuels.
3. Soil and Water Quality: Analyzing the health of soil and water on the campus.
4. Vegetation: Reviewing the types and health of plant life present.
5. Waste Management Practices: Investigating how the campus handles waste disposal and recycling.
6. Carbon Footprint: Estimating the campus's carbon emissions and environmental impact.

The green audit of the college is a pioneering step, the first of its kind for this institution. The audit began with a questionnaire survey to understand the existing resources on campus and to track resource consumption patterns among students and staff members. In addition, water and soil samples were taken from different areas of the campus and analyzed for various quality parameters.

The gathered data was carefully compiled and analyzed, and the final step involved creating a comprehensive report that outlined:

- Strengths: Positive aspects of the campus's environmental practices.
- Weaknesses: Areas where improvements can be made.
- Suggestions: Recommendations for enhancing the campus's environmental sustainability.

This green auditing initiative will provide valuable insights into how the college can become more sustainable and reduce its ecological footprint, serving as a model for other institutions. The detailed green audit report is available on our website:

3. Administrative Audit

Administrative audit involves assessing the administrative processes within an institution to evaluate its efficiency and effectiveness. It typically includes verifying fee receipt counterfoils against the fee register, conducting annual checks of the stock registers for libraries and departments, and reviewing the career placements of faculty and staff.
